This graphic novel celebrates the extraordinary true tales of three black heroes who took control of their destinies and stood up for their communities in the Old West. Born into slavery in Tennessee, Mary Fields became famous as "Stagecoach Mary," a cigar-chomping, card playing coach driver who never missed a delivery. Bass Reeves, the first black Deputy US Marshal west of the Mississippi, was one of the wildest lawmen in the territories, bringing thousands of outlaws to justice with his smarts. Bob Lemmons lived to be 99 years old and was so good with horses that the wild mustangs on the plains of Texas took him for one of their own.

Linda Kranz

This homage to rock collecting celebrates rocks in all their variety, shapes, and colors. Some resemble pieces of modern art. Others offer a glimpse into the natural beauty around us. Some rocks are rough to the touch, and others are as smooth as glass. There are rocks inside rocks, and even rocks shaped like a heart. This book explains how to start a rock collection, and what you might do with them, such as identifying them, painting on them, or creating scenes with their shapes. The book also advises you where NOT to collect rocks, such as certain parks and natural areas. This book will inspire the rock hound in all of us.

Saddle up and get ready for a ride back into the wild and wooly past of the American West. The west was at its wildest from 1865 to 1895, when territories west of the Mississippi River remained untamed and lawless. Famous for cowboys, American Indians, lawmen, gunslingers, pioneers, and prospectors, this period in US history captures the imagination of all kids and now is brought vividly to life.

Chile Peppers: A Global History
Dave DeWitt
$29.95 Paper

For more than ten thousand years, humans have been fascinated by a seemingly innocuous plant with bright-colored fruits that bite back when bitten. In Chile Peppers: A Global History, Dave DeWitt, a world expert on chiles, travels from New Mexico across the Americas, Europe, Africa, and Asia chronicling the history, mystery, and mythology of chiles around the world and their abundant uses in seventy mouth-tingling recipes.

Wrinkled skin dripping with fetid water, twisting finger-nails covered with black muck, wailing and gnashing of teeth—and unspeakable sin. These images haunt the imaginations of millions of people; they also are part of the bedtime stories many children will hear tonight. La Llorona is the most popular and infamous ghost in Latino folklore; in fact, the legend of La Llorona, the Wailing Woman, may be the oldest ghost story in the southwestern United States, South America, and Mexico. Stories about this disturbing and complex figure even existed as part of the Aztec culture thousands of years ago. Today, numerous versions of the legend are told wherever people speak Spanish. Generations of children have been scared by family and friends who told them about the ghost who haunts the rivers, ditches, and waterways of the world. The legendary Wailing Woman is not merely frightening; she is profoundly tragic and very real to many people.

What It's Like to Be a Bird: From Flying to Nesting, Eating to Singing—What Birds Are Doing and Why
David Allen Sibley
 $35.00 Hardcover
 9780307957894

"Can birds smell?" "Is this the same cardinal that was at my feeder last year?" "Do robins 'hear' worms?" David Sibley answers the most frequently asked questions about the birds we see most often. This special, large-format volume is geared as much to nonbirders as it is to the obsessed, covering more than two hundred species, with more than 330 new illustrations by the author. While its focus is on familiar backyard birds—blue jays, nuthatches, chickadees—it also examines species that can be fairly easily observed, such as the seashore-dwelling Atlantic puffin. David Sibley's artwork and wide-ranging expertise bring observed behaviors vividly to life. (For most species, the primary illustration is reproduced life-sized.) And while the text is aimed at adults, it is non-technical, making it the perfect occasion to share their love of birds with young children, who will delight in the big, full-color illustrations of birds in action.

Venomous Animals of the United States and Canada: A Guide to Vertebrates and Invertebrates of Land and Sea
Lawrence L.C. Jones
$45.00 Paper
9781940322087

Venomous animals are everywhere. There could even be one crawling toward you right now. (Indeed, the editor received some fire ant bites at his desk while working on this book!) But despite our fears of potential danger from these animals, they still fascinate and delight us too. Venomous Animals is intended for anyone interested in, and wanting to safely view, some of our most awe-inspiring animals in nature. It should prove useful to hikers, bird-watchers, and homeowners as well as professionals in poison control centers and the medical field.

Highlights:

- More than 80 sections on species that can cause harm to humans—from the familiar European Honey Bee, Portuguese Man-of-War, and Western Diamond-backed Rattlesnake to the less familiar biting worms, box jellyfishes, octopuses, and shrews.
- Basic information on identification, natural history, habitats, taxonomy, and attributes of venom composition and effects
- Envenomation stories. Vicariously live the experiences of people bitten or stung without their pain and hospital bill!
- A venom and envenomation primer, along with a chapter on first aid
- 500+ color photographs of animals and the results of their envenomations

Subpar Parks: America's Most Extraordinary National Parks and Their Least Impressed Visitors
Amber Share
$22.00 Hardcover
9780593185544

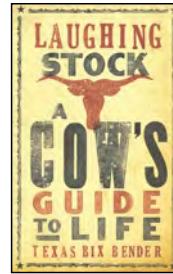

Subpar Parks hilariously combines beautiful illustrations and informative, amusing text celebrating each national park paired with the one-star reviews disappointed tourists have left online. Millions of visitors each year enjoy Glacier National Park, but for one visitor, it was simply "Too cold for me!" Another saw the mind-boggling vistas of Bryce Canyon as "Too spiky!" Never mind the person who visited the thermal pools at Yellowstone National Park and left thinking, "Save yourself some money, boil some water at home." Equal parts humor and love for the national parks and the great outdoors, it's the perfect gift for anyone who loves to spend time outside as well as have a good read (and laugh) once they come indoors.

Bass Reeves, the first black Deputy US Marshal west of the Mississippi, was one of the wildest lawmen in the territories, bringing thousands of outlaws to justice with his smarts. Bob Lemmons lived to be 99 years old and was so good with horses that the wild mustangs on the plains of Texas took him for one of their own.

Haunted Albuquerque
Cody Polston
$21.99 Paper
9781467149785

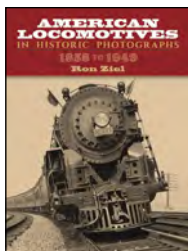

When the railroad arrived in Albuquerque in 1880, a whole new town of stores and saloons sprouted along the tracks. Just like the original settlement, which came to be known as Old Town, the additional districts produced their share of macabre tales and ghostly lore. At the KiMo Theater, the crew still leaves out donuts for the tragic young victim of a 1951 water heater explosion. A mysterious woman in a black dress visits the bar at the Old Albuquerque Press Club with an apparent hankering for gin. From inexplicable occurrences at the Old Bernalillo County Courthouse to infamous residents of the Fairview Cemetery, Cody Polston gathers enough of Albuquerque's haunted heritage to entertain the most dismissive skeptic.

Wyatt Earp and Bat Masterson: Lawmen of the Legendary West
Bill Markley
$16.95 Paper
9781493035670

Which lawman did the most to tame the frontier? Bat Masterson or Wyatt Earp? Neither of them was a saint. At times their actions were not in compliance with the law, and they only served as peace officers for limited portions of their lives. What sets them apart from the thousands of sheriffs and marshals who served on America's frontier? Did they make more arrests than others? Did they kill large numbers of men? Did they lead adventurous lives? Did they get the right publicity at the right time? Did they just outlive all the others? This joint biography reveals the intersection of their legacies and attempts to answer the questions about their place in the story of the West.

His name conjures images of the Wild West, of gunfights and gambling halls and a legendary friendship with the lawman Wyatt Earp, and he is probably most famous for his time in Tombstone. But Doc Holliday's story is a much richer than that one sentence summary allows. Revealed from contemporary newspaper accounts and records of interviews with Doc himself and the people who knew him and packed with archival photos and illustrations.
